VERY REV. WILLIAM L. KELEHER, S.J.

Since our last report things have balanced off here at the Heights and now we are in a position to announce our under-graduate enrollment as 4750. For reasons not altogether clear, there was a definite decline in the number of veterans returning for the third and fourth years, and a sharp drop in the non-veteran returning after the first year. We know that many of the veterans left us to enter graduate schools and we know, too, that some of the non-veterans left us to enter military service. We are not disappointed at the falling off in numbers because the campus is still over-crowded, and the decline in the registration makes it possible to handle numbers a little more effectively.

It will be of interest to all, to know that the annual student retreat this year was conducted at the Cathedral of the Holy Cross. The Seniors and boarders followed the spiritual exercises here at the Heights, while 3500 Freshmen, Sophomores and Juniors were in attendance at the Cathedral. His Excellency, the Most Reverend Archbishop, presided at the last exercise and gave Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament.

At the close of Benediction, he addressed the student body and has since invited us back for another year. The Archbishop was thrilled at the sight of 3500 men in his Cathedral, and his own inspiring remarks served as a fitting climax. While we have not settled on the program for another year, since everything went so smoothly this year, I am inclined to go back to the Cathedral again.

A small group of 60 spent the retreat week at North Andover and they are so enthusiastic that I am hoping we can do more by way of closed retreats for the student body. I mention this that you may know that the decreased enrollment has not meant a let-down in the spirituality of the student body.

Let me take this occasion to bring you the prayerful best wishes of all your former teachers for a happy and blessed Christmas. I know I need not tell you that in our Christmas Masses you and all your intentions will have a very special memento. May the blessings of the Christ Child be with you and yours always.

FR. KELLEY LEAVES BUSINESS SCHOOL

This month it was announced that Very Rev. James J. Kelley, S. J., '14, had been appointed Rector of Boston College High School and the Immaculate Conception Church.

Father Kelley had been dean of the College of Business Administration since it first opened in 1938 at 126 Newbury Street, Boston. During his eleven years in office he has seen this division of Boston College grow more rapidly than any other. The first entering class numbered 75 students. Today the enrollment for the whole school is 1375. In 1948 the Faculty consisted of about eight members. Today there are 56. During these years the Business School has moved several times, from Newbury Street to the Tower Building, to Cardinal O'Connell Hall, back to the Tower Building during the war years, again to Cardinal O'Connell Hall, and finally to its permanent home in the new C. B. A. building on the campus.

Rev. Patrick J. Collins, S.J., '23, is acting dean until the successor to Father Kelley has been appointed.

BUSINESS SCHOOL

At the College of Business Administration there is an Industrial Management Laboratory, one of the first of its kind to be established in this country. The general purpose of this laboratory is to acquaint business students with actual operation conditions in industry.

Also at the C. B. A. is an Exhibition Room devoted to industrial production, products and processes. This room is open daily from 9:30 A.M. to 4:30 P.M. for the general public as well as the students. The exhibits will acquaint visitors with New England Industry.

The first of the series of exhibits, held in October, emphasizing the breadth of industry in New England had as its theme, "The New and Old in Old New England." It presented a review of the variety and progress of industry in the six New England states. The eighteen companies which had placed their wares in the showcases were: Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Co. (WBZ), Gillette Safety Razor Co., Hood Rubber Co., Page Belting Co., Worcester Pressed Steel Co., La Pointe Machine Tool Co., Goodall-Sanford Inc., Raytheon Mfg. Co., L. S. Starret Co., General Electric Co., Trumbull Electric Mfg. Co., Norton Co., Fram Corp., American Woolen Co., United Shoe Machinery Co., Gim & Co.,

Nashua Gummed & Coated Paper Co., and the U. S. Time Corp.

The theme of the exhibits will vary from month to month. For the balance of the academic year each subsequent exhibit will deal with a specific industry striving to show the depth of that particular industry in this area. This month the theme is "Textiles"; in December, "Food and Food Products"; in January, "Leather"; in the following months "Iron and Steel Products", "Plastics", "Non-ferrous Metals", and "Paper and Paper Products".

LIBRARY IRISH LITERATURE COLLECTION

The Irish Collection, gathered over a period of years by the College library, now comprises one of the finest collections of Irish literature in the United States.

Three years ago this collection was greatly augmented by the acquisition of the 1500 volume John T. Hughes Memorial Collection. These books were assembled by the late Mr. Hughes, a Boston lawyer who not only manifested a great love for Ireland but also an active interest in her literature and history.

Among the rare items received through the Hughes donation are the Acta Sanctorum of Lives of Irish Saints, written in two volumes at Louvain in the early 17th century by the Rev. John Colgan; the Calendar of Aengus, or Calendar of Church Festivals, composed in the ninth century and edited and published by Dr. Whitney Stokes of Trinity College, Dublin, in 1871; Bunting's Ancient Music of Ireland, which is an 1840 edition of a work which first appeared in 1795; Davis' Discovery of the True Causes Why Ireland Was Never Subdued, published in 1612.

Also included in this outstanding group are a manuscript copy of Geoffrey Keating's History of Ireland, Book of the Dun Cow, and the Justification and Exposition of the Divine Sacrifice of the Mass by the Rev. Henry FitzSimon, who wrote the Justification while on the staff of the Irish College of Douay in 1611.

Several years ago Mrs. Joseph Plunkett, whose husband was executed in Ireland after the Easter Rising of 1916, presented Rev. Terence A. Conolly, S.J., Librarian at Boston College with a number of manuscript copies of her husband's poems. The library also possesses typewritten manuscripts of poems by Thomas McDonagh, another Easter Week martyr.

MUSICAL CLUBS

At the College the Musical Clubs have begun to formulate plans for the coming season. Negotiations are now under way for the Glee Club and Concert Orchestra to journey to Washington, D. C. during the Easter vacation. Concerts will be given in Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Maryland, and Washington. It is desired that the Alumni Clubs in these areas will sponsor the musicians in several concerts.

During the past season the Musical Clubs have appeared at the Boston Garden in celebration of the Centennial Anniversary of Old St. Mary's Church, and at Boston Symphony Hall before three thousand enthusiastic music lovers for the benefit of the Society for the Propagation of the Faith. They have also given several benefit performances sponsored by Boston College Clubs, notably at Stoneham and Lynn. The annual concert at Weston College was well received on Passion Sunday.

While on tour last spring, combined concerts were given at Our Lady of The Elms College, Chicopee, Mass.; St. Joseph College, Hartford, Conn.; Albertus Magnus College, New Haven, Conn., and Emmanuel College, Boston. Almost all of these schools have asked for a return engagement this season and their invitations are being accepted.

A scrapbook of the Clubs' activities is being composed and all former members of the Musical Clubs who wish to donate programs or newspaper clippings of performances in past seasons may send them to the Club at the Heights.

The Faculty Moderator is Rev. Henry A. Callahan, S.J. The Director is Walter L. Mayo, '23.

SPORTS

NATHANIEL J. HASENFUS, '22

With the football season more than two-thirds over, the Eagles have posted a 600 average for they have beaten Wake Forest, Georgetown and Villanova, have tied St. Bonaventure, lost to two Southern rivals, Mississippi and Clemson, and tied William and Mary. As has been the case for several years, the lack of a line-smashing fullback of the type of Holovak has hampered the Eagles when the need of that vital one yard presents itself. Like most grandstand quarterbacks, I believe that this was the greatest single cause of the latest defeat, by Clemson, for the failure to make that important first down on the fifty yard line gave the Tigers their third opportunity. The Eagles seem overstrong at the half-back posts, so strong, perhaps, that material does not get enough work, since so many different backs of equal ability operate that cohesion is sometimes lacking.

However, we may say that the season has been good up to date, for the club has sharpened its pass defense, developed a smart air attack itself, and has given the fans a thrill whenever it has played. If B. C. wins from now in, and it can, 1948 may be recorded as a successful campaign. Sparks on the eleven are Diminick, Poissant and Palladino in the backfield and Donovan, Stautner and Spinney in the line. Chouinard has been excellent at center since he relieved the injured Kennedy in the Wake Forest game. Kennedy has been missed, for the giant Pennsylvanian is a powerhouse who is out for the whole season, if not forever.

Track, under Jack Ryder, has suffered from lack of good runners and field event men. This year's team should be much better, for the freshman material of last season is better than average, and Ryder has gone back to his old love — cross country — in order to get the men in shape. Ralph Edwards, star of other years, has been elected captain and should make an excellent leader.

Basketball is in full swing, and the 1949 team has already given a good account of itself in a game scrimmage with the Boston Celtics. Coach McClellan is confident that the team will improve further this year, for Johnny Letvinchuck alone is missing from last year's five, and new men coming up include Gaffey, Deegan, Hickey, Kirby, and the Jabars from the freshman quintet. The schedule includes two-game series with Holy Cross and Providence, and single games with Harvard, Duquesne, Becker, St. Michael's, Tufts, B. U., and Dartmouth. Two trips will be made to New York, to play N. Y. A. C. and St. Francis, and Canisius. Several games will be played with New England colleges at the Heights.

The freshman team should be tops, for not only has B. C. High sent over its championship team intact, but Haycock 6'5" from Chicago, Cardwell 6'6" from Regis in New York, Dick Fitzgerald, John Moran, Tim O'Connell (Dermie's brother) from Brooklyn, Duggan from Newman Prep, and a dozen others are working out. "Chestey" Carr should make an inspiring leader.

Hockey, that made a name of itself in the West, expects a banner year, for only Corcoran and Mason have graduated, and Mulhern, Seglaski, and Harrington from the freshman club are expected to step into their shoes. Work has already been done at the Skating Club in conditioning the boys. Prominent among the teams to be met are Harvard, Princeton, Brown, B. U., Northeastern, Devens, Tech and Dartmouth, all of whom are to be met home and home. Colorado is coming East to play a return match with the Eagles.

In Captain Bernie Burke, the Eagles have a goalie to stand with Fitzgerald, Ready, Moore and Carey of the past, and in Songin, Gallagher and McCusker we have one of the best defenses in New England. All combinations in the forward line are really fast and great things are expected from Warren Lewis.

BOWLING LEAGUE

Ed Keough, Law '38, president of the Alumni Bowling League, invites teams representing local clubs to compete in the league.

The teams meet every Monday evening at 8 o'clock at the South Station Alleys.

Clubs now represented are Cambridge, East Boston, Hyde Park, Quincy and West Roxbury.

1948 FOOTBALL FILM

A Highlight Film of the football games played this year is being prepared by the Public Relations Office in conjunction with the Athletic Association. The length of the film will be about 1600 feet, running time 45 minutes. It will have a sound track.

A fee of $15.00 will be charged when the film is shown within a 15 mile radius of Boston, $10.00 for the equipment, $5.00 for the operator. The College receives nothing. Beyond the 15 mile area the charge will be higher.

Bookings may be made at the Public Relations Office.

Also available without charge are official banners for any B. C. function, large or small.

STOCKING A SUPER MARKET

NEARLY six million American families daily eat food purchased at A&P Food Stores. To meet their demands the average A&P Super Market stocks well over two thousand items.

Such a complex job requires far-flung buying activities in national and world markets.

Take fresh fruit and vegetables, for example. Representatives of the Company's 140 field buying offices go into the fields and orchards of all 48 states to assure a steady flow of quality produce to A&P's customers.

Similarly, poultrymen of 41 states do business with A&P. The finest products of America's dairyland, cattle country and grain belt find year-round public acceptance through the Company's aggressive merchandising.

Fishing fleets from Alaska to Newfoundland and the Gulf of Mexico pour millions of pounds of seafood into A&P's fresh and process market. Tea and spice trade with the Orient and with South America and the Indies for coffee and tropical foods highlight the Company's world-wide buying activities.

Throughout its 89-year history A&P has been alert to the importance of maintaining primary and supplementary supply sources for all foods, working closely with suppliers to improve production and distribution methods. The natural outcome of such a policy has been to provide consumers with foods of greater variety, better quality and lower cost. It has enabled the Company to return to suppliers a larger share of the consumer's food dollar.

Expert buying and testing facilities are characteristic of the business methods which year after year have enabled the men and women of A&P to do the nation's most effective job of food distribution.
